12-Week Preborn

My fingers have fingernails with tiny developing fingerprints.
My eyes have their first coloring.
I can make facial expressions and even smile.
I have my own blood and DNA completely separate from my mother.
My heart started beating nine weeks ago.
Four weeks ago, my arms, hands, fingers, feet and toes were fully formed and every organ was present..
For two weeks, I've been sucking my thumb and practicing breathing to get ready for when I get to see my mom face to face!
